

SOLUTION BRIEF

Better Endpoint / IT Hygiene

Zenith provides unequalled holistic endpoint protection including unparalleled visibility to improve endpoint / IT hygiene with the people you already have.

Better IT hygiene on all endpoints. Everyone agrees it's critically important. And no one wants to do it! It's not sexy, or fun, or easy – but it's a game changer from an endpoint protection perspective.

AV and EDR are essential. But hardening endpoints through better IT hygiene practices is the “plus” that will make the difference.

Know what's connected and running

Endpoint protection is a challenge if you don't know what endpoints are on your network, or what applications users are running. With Ziften Zenith, this is a non-issue.

Zenith continuously discovers and fingerprints all connected devices using passive monitoring to identify all, even infrequently connecting, systems. Additionally, Zenith collects a detailed catalog of all applications installed and running on each and every managed endpoint. Find out immediately when someone is using unauthorized applications.

Eliminate Unpatched Vulnerabilities

Tracking and patching endpoint OS and application vulnerabilities is a huge task for most security and IT operations teams. With Zenith, it gets much easier.

Zenith monitors in real-time OS and application patch levels with no additional agent, or external scanning, or extra scheduling required. Know immediately what endpoint systems are unpatched and how to prioritize vulnerability management efforts to improve the overall security posture.

Harden the Configuration

Attackers love your endpoints. One reason is users are great at disabling endpoint security controls. Use Zenith to maintain compliant endpoint security controls.

Zenith continuously monitors all endpoint security controls making it easy to evaluate and operationalize endpoint configuration hardening to eliminate non-compliant endpoints and to strengthen the overall security posture.

Get beyond traditional security functions, Zenith provides unequalled holistic endpoint protection including unparalleled visibility to improve endpoint / IT hygiene with the people you already have.

The Ziften Zenith difference is clear.
